New York, March. 26.-Prices moved continuously in today's stock market, but the course of the movement changed so often as to leave speculative sentiment thoroughly confused. The action of Union Pacific had an important influence on the whole list by sympathy. The had impress whole list by sympathy. The bad impression created by yesterday's announcement of a coming bond issue seemed to pass away, and after a period of early depression banking oficials credited with the financing intimated that the first reports of the dimensions of the immediate pression. of the dimensions of the immediate pro-posed issue had been exaggerated. Stories were thereupon revived of the immin-ence of the plan for segregation of Union Pacific investments for distribution to stockholders. The stock turned strong again and carried the whole market with he heavy tone of United States steel he early dealings weighed on the whole arket and the source of the selling was I hade cause for suspicion and for ru-lors of distribution by important inside mors of distribution by important inside interests. The copper securities had the advantage of another rise in the price of metal here and abroad and reports from London of an improvement in the general market condition for the metal. Reports regarding conferences over wage conditions in the soft coal trade varied widely as they came from different districts and this may have accounted for some conditions. as they came from different districts and this may have accounted for some confusion in the price movement of soft coal carriers. The special strength shown by the Canadian group of railroads was attributed to a foreign origin and the reason for the advance was not stated. Some sustaining force in the general list was an effect. The complications of weekly currency movement showed that the accumulation of cash here was going on uninterruptedly.

With the large payments made to the subtreasury on account of return of government deposits the gain of $2,733,000 made by that institution at the expense of the banks was amply explained. Receipts on balance from the interior by express have been on so liberal a scale as evidently to outweigh this drain and establish a cash gain of probably between one and two million dollars. It is not supposed that the United States treasury will be able to avoid further calls upon depositories, as the current deficit in the revenues necessitates the paying out of positories, as the current dencit in the revenues necessitates the paying out of its available cash balances. These payments in excess of the current income, however, obviously operate to return sums to the channels of the money market and so restore the amounts drawn down from government deposits. The govfrom government deposits. The government's operations, in fact, are not interfering with the growing ease of the money conditions. Confidence in continuited ease of money is expressed among. ued ease of money is expressed amongst stock exchange borrowers by unwillingness to borrow sums on time in the reliance that the cheaper call loan rate is destined to persist. The easing of our money rate while foreign money markets show some occasional stiffness, was not unrelated to the day's rise in foreign exchange rates. The strong banking forecast helped the later stock market and the earlier uncertainty was largely discarded in a vigorous upbidding of prices to a strong closing.

Bismarck

OW many living men can squarely stand up and honestly compare themselves as the equal or superior (in any way whatsoever) to the great Iron Chancellor of the Hohenzollern's, who made Goethe's dream of Germanic unity a realistic drama of "iron and of blood?"

How many dare declare, "I have greater brain power than he"-"I have a stronger body"-"I am healthier"-"I have a saner knowledge"-"I am more successful" or "I have more force of character?"

Bismarck, during his marvelous career, outwitted the most celebrated statesmen of his time; terrified the mightiest kings and emperors; overthrew and conquered three armed nations; and ruled over the empire he created with enlightened and practical wisdom for nearly half a century, dying at the ripe old age of 89, famous throughout the world as the "Greatest of the Germans."

Now, upon what nutriment was this colossus fed that he grew so mighty; what put the iron into his blood? This we know -that like all Germans he believed in good eating and drinking, hence the juices of malt and hops were never absent from his table.

Authority-any biography of Bismarck. "A pot of good double beer, neighbor, drink and fear not,"-Henry VI.-Act 2,
